

EVENTS – BLACK MUSIC MONTH JULY 2010
WEEK 2

Hey Ya'll! I'm Sade Turnipseed your host of Delta Renaissance, your number one cultural arts television show in the Delta and I am here with your Delta Renaissance Cultural Arts Updates....

Thursday July 8,

The Young Publisher's Network will have a poetry-writing workshop. YPN is comprised of young people between the ages of 10 and 25 who gather to discuss and plan the publishing of their own books and film scripts. The workshops begin at 4pm. Immediately following the writer's workshops there will be Movie Nights at da' House, the film this week is "David Honeyboy Edwards" the documentary. The type of film from which the entire family can learn and appreciate. Movie nights will follow the Young Publishers' Meeting every Thursday promptly at 7pm. At 105 Main Street in Historic Downtown Indianola.

Thursday July 8

DELTA LADIES EXHIBIT

Guachoya is spotlighting three talented Delta artists: Kathy Day, Rebecca Potter and Shelby Nunnery. Doors will open at 6:00 where you can browse the galleries and meet the artists.

Friday July 9

Teacher's from the Teach for America & the Robertson Scholars program will be partying at da' House. These young students and teachers have come from various places to share their love and intellect with our children; and the folks over at da' House are now showing them how much we appreciate. Thank you, thank you, thank you! Jessie Clay will be performing live both Friday and Saturday night at da' House located at 105 Main Street in Indianola.

FRIDAY July 9-11

The Annual Ida B. Wells Arts & Crafts Festival will be held in Holly Springs Mississippi. For more info 662.252.3232

Saturday, July 10, 2010

Is the 8th Annual Grassroots Blues Festival, "Blues in the Hills" in Duck Hill, Mississippi, this event is presented by the Action Communication & Education Reform, and this year is hosted by yours truly...so I hope to see you all there, at 12:00 Noon.

Saturday July 17
